E-Waste Management Policy

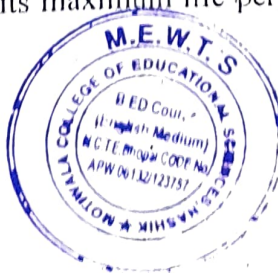

Introduction: - In the recent era the information technology has been playing a vital role in all walks of the life. Our institution has adopted and following this policy since inception of the college and using the information technology in our College & Hospital in day to day Academic, Finance & Administration. Various instruments/devices such as Computer, Monitor, Printer, Key Board, Laptop, Server & other IT related materials are being used for all type of office work. All these instruments/devices are having certain life. After expiry of their accepted working life period, they needs to be written off and withdrawn from the use.

As such to decide e-waste management policy was under consideration of the Trust. For deciding the policy the reference of Government of Maharashtra Resolution dated 01 August 2011 of IT Dept (General Administration) has been taken for guidance and the policy of e-waste management has been adopted by the Trust is as under :-

Policy:-

- 1) IT (E-material) means Computer, Monitor, Printer, Key Board, Laptop, Server & other IT related materials.
- 2) The life of every IT material shall be 5 (five) years or upto its proper service output whichever is more.
- 3) As far as possible every e-material shall be used upto the optimum level. They may be changed / replaced as per requirement in the same or in other same type of instrument in order to use the part/component to its full capacity.
- 4) The regular service of all IT materials shall be undertaken.
- 5) The part/component/the instrument which is not serviceable or its repairing cost is not economical or its maximum life period has been expired such item shall be written off.

6) The written off (e-waste IT material) shall either be donated to the needy people /organization/institution/NGO/Institution under our trust on first priority basis. Second priority shall be given to the employees of the College & Hospital. Then it may be sold in the market and if no response is being received then they may be sold in scrap. But in no way they shall be thrown away.

7) The Special Register/file shall be maintain for I.T. instruments/components in which all necessary entries shall be made including its type of disposal as detailed in para 6 above.

8) This policy shall come into force w.e.f. the date on which it has been issued.
